TASTING NOTES

This wine takes its name from the Middle English term Paramour, meaning “other love.” The 2013 vintage is only the third time we have produced a Paramour. In such exceptional vintages we use only the best barrels of our finest lots of Tempranillo to craft this grand reserve style wine. This incredibly concentrated “labor of love” is then aged two years in barrel and four or more in bottle before release. We believe you too will adore this rich and alluring wine.
